National Health System Chooses ReVID's Automated Charge Reconciliation to Help Eliminate Revenue Leakage

Atlanta, GA, April 11, 2022 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Avelead, a Streamline Health Company (Nasdaq: STRM), today announced a significant expansion of its existing relationship with a prominent healthcare system that manages 80+ facilities throughout the United States. The health system has agreed to increase its usage of the Avelead Platform and its ReVID software – the industry-leading automated charge reconciliation solution to help eliminate revenue leakage.

Avelead's mission is to help hospitals put an end to lost revenue. Avelead's flagship ReVID solution eliminates leaking revenue before it happens by helping identify, review and reconcile potential charge mistakes prior to billing. In addition, ReVID's real-time visibility and control enables greater accountability within the revenue system – providing a top-down view of departmental performance.

"We are pleased to expand our relationship with this great healthcare provider. This is further proof that our mission to eliminate revenue leakage is gaining traction," stated Jawad Shaikh, President and CEO, Avelead. "Our initial implementation at this hospital system helped identify $75 million in missing revenue in just one quarter. With this expansion, we look forward to helping them capture much more in the months and years ahead."
