National Health System Chooses Compare Solution to Assist with EHR Conversions and Enhance Data Quality

Atlanta, GA, Aug. 01, 2022 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Avelead, a Streamline Health Company \(Nasdaq: STRM\), today announced an expansion of its existing relationship with a Southwest-based healthcare system with more than 60 acute care facilities in the United States. The health system has agreed to expand its use of Avelead's Compare solution to three additional facilities to assist in their transitions to a new electronic health record (EHR).

Avelead's mission is to help hospitals put an end to lost revenue. Avelead's flagship RevID solution eliminates leaking revenue before it happens by helping identify, review and reconcile potential charge mistakes prior to billing. Avelead's Compare solution assists organizations with automation that compiles and compares common data from disparate systems during large-scale migrations such as EHR conversions. By ensuring data quality, Compare expedites the transition to new systems and the subsequent operational and financial benefits of using them.

"As hospitals adapt to new challenges and adopt new technologies, our Compare solution enables successful system transitions," stated Jawad Shaikh, President and CEO, Avelead. "Providing visibility into the common data being migrated from legacy systems to newer ones enables organizations to identify potential issues and proactively address them, minimizing the disruptions normally encountered with such large projects. We're honored to expand this relationship and build on the trust we've developed by optimizing our client's processes and outcomes going forward."
